Operation of the Tariff—Mr. Woodbury's positions.

We have repeatedly shown the necessity of Protection to home labor as essential to the highest good of American Industry and the best elevation of American Workingmen. We have often spoken of the favorable operation of the Tariff upon the business of the country, and referred our readers to the experience of every day life in confirmation of the fact. We have introduced into our columns a multitude of facts to prove that in many cases the price of manufactured articles instead of being increased had actually been lessened while the price of raw materials had been increased. To many of our readers these matters are familiar. We allude to these matters now because a recent effort has been made by George McDuffie of South Carolina, in a great Speech at Richmond Va, and by Levi Woodbury, the political brother of McDuffie, at the North, in a great Speech at Bangor, Maine, to controvert the doctrine of Protection—misrepresent the operation of the Tariff and prejudice the people in favor of free-trade or a tariff on Revenue principles. These men by the advice and counsel of their party, have undertaken to present two issues distinctly before the people in the Presidential campaign—Protection or no Protection—the annexation of Texas and the assumption of her debts, without regard to consequences.

We are therefore under the necessity of going over the ground of Protection again and of entering somewhat minutely into the operation of the Tariff particularly as affecting prices. We have ample materials at hand for this purpose and shall make it so plain that no one can mistake regarding the truth of our positions.

We have not space to day to do much more than allude to the course we intend to pursue. There is however one position assumed by Mr Woodbury and other leaders of the party to which we will now allude. They represent that the duty should be reduced to 20 per cent, and complain greatly that it is now more than double that. The effect of this change, will be to cause more than double the amount of imported goods and productions to be brought into the country to come in competition with the articles now produced. Push this competition to the extent to which foreigners would be willing to go for the purpose of breaking down our manufactures in order to secure a future market for themselves, and you not only lessen the price of such goods but the price of labor, and by throwing men out of employ and by limiting their ability to buy, you bring down also the price of agricultural and all other productions. It is worthy of thought too, that if the government is to expend twenty millions of dollars a year, this amount must be provided from some source and if it is to be raised by a revenue from imports it is not wise to bring into the country more goods than is needed merely to have a less per cent in the way of the duties. If larger importations are made we must make larger exportations to save the balance against us drawn out in payment. Now the operation of the present Tariff has been to lessen the quantity of goods brought from Europe—encouraged our own workmen, and has thus enabled Europe to send over her own goods by the articles we have sent her in exchange, as she would with a low Tariff, her surplus stock of hardware, calicoes, boots, hats &c., and run them off here at almost any price while her markets are so restricted against our people that they cannot pay them back by similar treatment. The approach towards the abandonment of the protective policy is an approach towards national and personal dependence and bankruptcy.

A Short Chapter on that Unsophisticated Shep. Cary.

"Fore God, a likely fellow!—Come, prick me Bull Cal! till he roar again." Henry IV.

I have, Mr Editor, an especial hate of all small-beer men. Among the many and grievous charges which sit like an incubi upon the Loco-foco party, enough, in all conscience, to consign them to the place unmentionable, or what the leaders would regret more, to call for their choking off from public money blood sucking, that one which has the greatest tendency to disgust, is, that they will in the teeth of all decency, send out among the people to be raised to important offices, white pine calves with brazen noddles. I have the misfortune to be unacquainted with the private character of the gentleman I am advertising—he may be a Howard or a Franklin—and you, as a candid journalist will certainly require of me to inform myself on this, ere I unconditionally write him down an ass—I shall. What I may remark upon, let me be understood, is predicated on his proceedings as a wire-puller in Maine, member from the Eastern District, and a borer of the "dear people." And, I will take this occasion to ask his shrewd confidants in Penobscot and elsewhere, if they have not made a slight mistake in advancing our financier to this important office of wire-puller! If it had not been quite as well to have merely availed themselves of his services at Washington and muzzled him while at home? Now, the New York Express undertakes to say that when the gentleman got to the Capitol, he actually undertook to advocate among his political friends there the doctrines he had held out to his constituents at the Aroostook, in fact to pass himself off there in that same capacity as a lover of the "dear people." The result was that the gentleman wouldn't be tolerated. It was carrying the joke too far. It was voted a bore. I am not sure but that the party here can make some capital of this—telling how this man from out the body, the very bowels, of the people, went to Washington, and instead of setting at naught those great truths under the shade of whose banner he had been sent there, truths that he had heard in the whisper of Aroostook forests, in the roar of her waters—

"In the poor Indian, whose untutor'd mind, Sees, &c.,

yet, instead of despising these, actually attempted to "play possum" and "pull the wool over eyes" of friends and enemies there to the tune of making them think that he was in earnest—and that those aristocrats, yea, his political friends, his own true loves, in the first instance, applied the thumb to the nose, and "gyrated the digits," and in the second, cut him! ah! poor down-trodden Democracy, ravishing in a Washington air. This is Shepherd's journey home, and he has stopped at our good city to tell us how much he has learned and insinuate that we had better pay the tuition for another quarter. Alas! Shepherd! I had my fears!—Now do you really mean to set yourself up and say you are somebody—to say you know anything—that you have the capacity sufficient for a Justice of the Peace? Or, are you only laying your finger to the side of your nose, winking meaningly at your auditor, as much as to say—"See how well Bull Cal can come it—see how little Amber you can make a loco loco great man of!" Now what do you mean by saying that Gov. Dorr is "clothed in the library of a felon?" You know you repeated this expression two or three times, Shepherd. Do you mean to say that the great unconquered is made, save the covering, of volumes of "Jack Sheppard," "Newgate Calendar," "Murder and Roberies at Sea," and others which would form a felon library? "Too severe a bit at your friend!" If you meant to express some other idea, which at present we can't arrive at, be kind enough at the next session of Congress, to read all the works on orthography, in the National Library, and come back and tell us what you did mean. But let me hold you, Christian Congressman, no longer by the button-hole, but go and delight with your presence, the democracy of good Aroostook! But "don't roar!" "What, dost roar before thou art pricked?"

"O, lord, sir, I am a diseased man."

"What disease hast thou?"

"A cold, sir, a cough, sir; which I caught with ringing in the King's affairs, upon his coronation day, sir."

See further account of the great prototype in the play of Henry fourth, where this and several other species of his partizans are depicted, and true to the life, all because Human Nature has not changed since Shakspeare's time. PISTOL.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

I am poor, but, I trust, not ungrateful. I well remember many acts of kindness received at your hands in days gone by, and would, were it in my power, repay them in more substantial coin than the production of my quill. But as this is out of the question, I avail myself of my only remaining resource, and will offer you from time to time the result of such observation and reflection as my limited capacity and want of leisure will admit. You and I have found ourselves at last, occupying stations in society, where we may freely and fearlessly express our individual opinions, untrammelled by the petty considerations that too often sway the judgment of the strong, and alarm the fears of the timid. You are the editor of an independent and useful periodical, and know very well that with industry and prudence your wants will be supplied. You can speak what you think, and think what you please, and no one has the power to put you down, or deprive your children of bread.

I am likewise a privileged character. I have no children to cry for bread, and my individual wants are few, and even these are supplied from a source that cannot fail while our laws remain unchanged. Fortified as I am within the walls of a very useful, and with a certain class a very popular institution, I shall act and write with as much saucy independence as a prime minister.

I shall not study elegance of style or great accuracy of composition, or a nice methodical arrangement of subjects, but speak right out in plain terms just what I think, on each and every subject which interests me, and which, I think, will be interesting to others. And if a useful idea should, for once, happen to stray into a poor man's brain, and find utterance, through the press, let a generous public receive it in part pay for the many favors gratuitously bestowed on the author. My peculiar "notions" on various subjects have frequently appeared in print, and, I trust, have not altogether been useless. In future I think of extending my observations to greater benefit, and speak more full on points that I think admit of improvement.

If you think well of my intentions and good will towards you, and will consent to publish my articles as I have time and talent to write, you will please make it manifest by publishing this, my introductory.

Indecency and Profanity.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

How often do we hear the boast of the superior-moral and religious character of our people of the North over that of the South. It would sir be very gratifying to me to know this to be the fact. I have sir resided a portion of several years in various parts of the Southern States, in the West Indies and in Venezuela. I have never sir in any of those places witnessed scenes on the Sabbath or any other day that would compare with the indecency, noise and profanity I have often witnessed on the banks of the Kenduskeag, in plain view and hearing from one of our principal streets, almost every Sabbath as well as other days during the warm season of the year.

I can truly say sir, that it has been a matter of sorrow and regret to be obliged to witness such scenes and that so much indifference to this subject has been manifested in a city proverbial for its moral and religious institutions and the propriety of its inhabitants. I would inquire sir is there no remedy for this evil? Have we no police regulations that will wipe off this stain from our escutcheon? I trust sir we have, and that the coming Sabbath will not be allowed to witness such scenes of nudity, indecency and profanity. I would by no means wish to deprive those who are disposed to bathe and cleanse themselves, from so doing; but would not a more retired place be more appropriate? And if noise and profane language must be used would it not be better that it should not meet the ear of men, women and children on their way to the house of worship and prayer. If you think proper to give the above an insertion, in your Daily, please to do so.

A CITIZEN.

Later from Texas.

The steamship New-York at New-Orleans, June 23d, has dates from Galveston to the 15th.

The U. S. ship Vincennes and brig Somers went to sea from Galveston after the arrival of the steamship Union, on the 6th inst which carried out orders to Comodore Corner. It was understood their destination was Vera Cruz, to which place the Comodore also proceeded in the Potomac. The Union returned to Pensacola.

The Texas papers were full of complaints of the smuggling carried on over the Red River boundary. The duties imposed by the Texan Tariff on foreign importations average 33 1/2 per cent, and it is said that responsible men openly offer to deliver goods from the United States for 10 and 12 per cent.

The trial of Com. Moore was still progressing at Washington.

In respect to the Indian trouble on the frontier, the Houston Telegraph of the 12th, has the following:

"We have direct information from Bexar, that the danger is no less than heretofore—that the Indians are still committing their depredations in parties of from eight to twelve; and that it is unsafe to travel the country, unless armed and in company. And it is certainly no less important to emigrants and strangers to be on their guard, than it is to the old and experienced inhabitants of Bexar, who never leave town without arms and company."

Honesty.

The New York correspondent of the Charleston Mercury, thus candidly confesses the truth touching Mr Polk's nomination:

"The fact was, that the Democratic party was weary of the old issues on which they were defeated in 1840, and that they wished to bring the war on new grounds. Thus, they have done—Without disrespect to Mr Van Buren, yet true to their best interests and highest principles, they have selected men more faithfully representing the latest phases of the Democratic masses."

The Army and Navy Chronicle, published at Washington, by W. Q. Force, Esq has been discontinued for want of proper support.

On Saturday opinions were pronounced in the following cases argued before the Court at the present and the last law term viz:

Stephen Rowell in equity vs John Freese—Bill dismissed.

Elizabeth Allen adx. vs Wm H Johnson—Exceptions overruled; Judgment for debt return of property ordered.

Robert M N Smyth in equity vs Waldo T Pierce & al. Bill dismissed for want of due diligence in prosecution.

Moses R Comstock vs Stephen Smith & al. Exceptions overruled—Judgment on verdict for debts.

Rufus Robie vs Daniel Wilkins. Judgment on default.

Wm J Thomas vs Israel Washburn Jr. & al. New trial granted.

Silas Sears vs Winslow Wright—Judgment on default.

Allen Gilman vs Joseph Norton, action dismissed.

John Leathers vs J. W. Carr—Judgment for plaintiff.

Samuel F. Fuller in Eq. vs David Benjamin—Bill dismissed.

Albert Holton vs City of Bangor—plff. nonsuit.

Balish French, appt. pet. for new assigt. of dower vs James Crosby and al.—decree affirming judgt. of Probate Court rescinded and cause ordered to stand for hearing.

James T. Soutter & al vs Albert Baker—Judgment for plff.

Samuel Larrabee vs Whitcomb Fairbanks—Plff. nonsuit.

Federick A. Butman compt. vs Hezekiah Winslow. Exceptions overruled.

Joseph Whipple inequity vs Samuel Springer & al. Bill dismissed.

James White, State Treasurer, vs Daniel Wilkins & al. together with the several additional declarations filed in the case was submitted on briefs by J. Godfrey, Hobbs and A. W. Paine for plff. J. Appleton for defts.

Same vs Same submitted on brief, A. W. Paine for Plf. J. Appleton for defts.

Samuel P. Dinsmore, was admitted as Attorney to practice in the Courts of the State.

The court rose on Saturday evening leaving a large number of actions, unargued which for want of time are necessarily continued for a whole year.

Littell's Living Age No 8 has been received and is for sale at the several Book stores in the city. We know of no way in which the expenditure of nine-pence can afford so much substantial and pleasant reading as in the purchase of a number of this work.

From Nauvoo—Reported Fight of the Prophet.

We have a little later news from Illinois. Gov. Ford is at Carthage, and has sent a letter to Jo Smith to treat with him, by sending some discreet persons with full powers. In the mean time he had ordered out the fourth brigade of Illinois Militia, and stationed a part at Warsaw and a part at Carthage. Arms in the arsenal at Alton were all ordered to Warsaw. The whole county was under arms. The Cincinnati Commercial of the 29th ult. gives reports on the authority of passengers from St. Louis that Jo Smith had fled from Nauvoo. The people, however, were determined to 'root out' the whole Mormon sect and capture Smith at all hazards. We consider the report of Smith flight doubtful though the Commercial presumes it to be true.

Six mountain boats arrived at St. Louis on the 21st ult., laden with furs. They were from Fort Platte, on the north fork of the Platte river. On their way down they were attacked by a party of Pawnees, who were repulsed. The boatmen escaped without the loss of life, but with the loss of life, but with the loss of some fire arms, ammunition and other property. The trade has been tolerably fair this season, but not so good as formerly.

Disaster at Sea.

The French brig Jeune Ludovic, from Port au Prince, in lat 20 30, long 76, fell in with a boat full of men, and took them on board. They belonged to the schooner William, Bridges, of Marblehead from Miragoiris, St Domingo, and stated that on the 11th of June, off Cape Nicolas Mole, at 6 P.M. she was struck by a white squall, and filled immediately. Capt Bridges and a seaman by the name of Grosvenor Williams, were drowned.

The Wreck of the Grampus.

Capt Taber of the whale ship Montpelier arrived at New Bedford, informs the Editor of the Bulletin, that on the 26th of June, the Bermudas Islands bearing W. N. W. distant 5 leagues, he fell in with a vessel bottom up, and nearly so, having the appearance of a 20 gun schooner, foremast gone, mainmast and bowsprit remaining apparently nearly new.

Her copper appeared good, part of the false keel and port shutters gone, and had apparently been in that situation five or six months. The wreck was doubtless that of the U. S. Schooner Grampus which was last heard of, we believe, off the Bermudas.

An Irishman by the name of James Norton was murdered in Batona on Wednesday by a negro named Peter York.

Illinois Awake.

The greatest activity prevails amongst the Whigs in every part of Illinois. The formation of Clay Clubs in every precinct has been a ready matter of course. The Whigs are haled in every quarter we have heard from, with the greatest enthusiasm.

"The Whigs of Illinois are, for once, wide awake, and determined to go into the approaching struggle with their whole hearts; with this feeling already so prevalent, and newising daily, what may we not expect? We may expect to do what the noble Whigs of Maryland did in 1836—make a complete revolution in the State, at once, by wise legislation, give her a high standing among her sister States. All this we can do, if we but go to work with sufficient spirit and energy." [Chicago Journal]

An Excellent Definition.

The editor of the Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer, in a very able exposition of the duty of Southern Whigs in the present contest, says—"Others may raise themselves under the name of Pro-Union, but we array ourselves under the name of Union."

The annexation question, which upon its own merits might have found a few sincere supporters, is destined to be totally lost, through the inactivity of its advocates. It has already lost much ground in Virginia; and in North Carolina and Georgia it is powerless; so say reliable accounts from those States. The disunion efforts and threats of South Carolina, both with regard to this question, as well as to that of the Tariff, are raising all hopes for carrying them, and turning against them many original friends, who are fast becoming disgusted with the folly—the ignorance, and intolerance of the slavery fanatics. This state of things has come apparently at last even to Mr Calhoun, who perceives that it is not "Democratic" for a very minute minority to rule the immense majority, and thrust the endorsements and perpetuation of slavery upon them against the stomach of their justice and humanity.

It is well understood that by the time of the coming election, Annexation, like Anti-Tariffism, will be confined to the State of South Carolina, that hospital of incurables. Mr Polk will take his ground in the slaves of Mr Van Buren, his victimized predecessor to the force of panic, and in the approaching contest nothing will be heard of the "Free Trade" or "Texas." The force of these two questions, and especially the last, which was relied upon by the sapient wise acres of the Baltimore Convention, to carry their obscure candidate into the Presidential Chair, having signally failed, and as he possesses no intrinsic personal cause of popularity, he will only prove another illustration in the line of unsuccess. "piece-cents," and secure the election of Mr Clay by a greater majority than has been claimed by his most sanguine friends. With regard to the disunion efforts of South Carolina, Mr Calhoun views them with alarm and regret; he has personally given in his adherence, and promised his support to Mr Polk, leaving Mr Tyler to amuse himself with the Presidential rattle until next March. He had hoped the Baltimore nomination, and its endorsement by the South Carolina Delegation, would have restored that State to the bosom of the confederacy, but nullification appears to be as ripe there now, as in the days gone by.—N. Y. Express.

The N. Y. Courier calls attention to the noble stand taken by the Whigs of the South in regard to Protection and the Union. The free trade absurdities, and the schemes of national robbery and treasonable abominations of the nullifiers, find no favor with the true-hearted Whigs of the Southern States. The Courier says it has watched with a good deal of care the developments of Southern opinion on all these subjects, and so far as it can judge from the tone of their press, the declarations of their public men and the proceedings of their popular meetings, it does not believe that there is a district or a town in the New England States where the people are more ardently, unbending and resolutely attached to Whig principles—to the principle of Protection in opposition to Free Trade especially—than are the Whigs of the South. The Courier selects as a single item from the immense amount of proof which might be adduced on this point, the resolutions of the Clay Club of Tuscaloosa, Ala., as a good indication of the spirit and temper of the Whigs of the South. We copy two of the most significant:—

Resolved, that we utterly repudiate the free trade dogmas of the Polk party; so long as about twenty-five millions per annum have to be raised for the support of the general government, we wish to see it raised by a tariff of duties on foreign imports; and if it incidentally protects American manufactures, the more the better, we care not how much it helps to make them consumers of our produce. The northern manufacturers purchase some four hundred thousand dollars of our cotton, and we would as soon have their gold as British gold.

Resolved, That the free trade doctrines of this new light Democracy lead directly and inevitably to direct taxation by the federal assessors and tax gatherers upon our farms, plantations and merchandize.

Of the Same Kith and Kin.

Those who may happen to see the vile slanders of the Loco-foco papers upon Mr Clay—so very abundant just now—will recollect that they come from the same source that those did which were poured upon the head of Gen. Harrison. These same papers made it out that he "sold white men into slavery, that he was an old granny," a "backward," a "dabatchee," and an "old federalist." The same party are at the same work again, the only difference is, they aim their arrows at the living rather than the dead. The same vile prints abound with similar slanders upon Mr. Clay. But as in the case of Gen. Harrison, they will find that the fruit of their labors will fall like thunderbolts upon their own heads. No one supposes that a man who has lived so long and done so much as Mr. Clay, would always escape errors of acts, yet no candid man lives who does not believe he means right, in all cases and under all circumstances. [Caledonian.]

Judging from the amount of revenue received at the Treasury, under the operations of the present Tariff act, for the last quarter of 1843, as already shown, it will not produce annually half the amount of revenue which would have been produced by the duties of the Compromise act, had that act been left undisturbed.—James K. Polk's Speech at Madison. Tenn April, 3d 1843.

COMMENT.—The receipts into the treasury from the port of New York alone, for the first half of the current year, of $6,775,329.75! And should the whole year do as well, the Government will receive a revenue from Customs alone of Forty Millions. And the Protective Tariff which its enemies stigmatize as prohibitory and destructive to commerce, is producing a revenue which is melting away like snow the public debts incurred under a revenue Tariff. And James K. Polk thinks this tariff will not produce revenue enough for the wants of the government, and that we must return to uniform rate of twenty per cent.

Indian war.

The Western Frontier of the 13th ult. says:—Mr R. Wilson informs us that about 100 miles from the settlements he was overtaken by a war party of the Osages, just from the Pawnees, with some scalps. They struck one of the men in his company in the face with a whip, but a council and a little smoking soon made peace. On the Arkansas he met a party of Comanches, about 100 in number, armed to the teeth, also, he thinks destined for the Pawnees.

On Saturday opinions were pronounced in the following cases argued before the Court at the present and the last law term viz:

Stephen Rowell in equity vs John Freese—Bill dismissed.

Elizabeth Allen adx. vs Wm H Johnson—Exceptions overruled; Judgment for debt return of property ordered.

Robert M N Smyth in equity vs Waldo T Pierce & al. Bill dismissed for want of due diligence in prosecution.

Moses R Comstock vs Stephen Smith & al. Exceptions overruled—Judgment on verdict for debts.

Rufus Robie vs Daniel Wilkins. Judgment on default.

Wm J Thomas vs Israel Washburn Jr. & al. New trial granted.

Silas Sears vs Winslow Wright—Judgment on default.

Allen Gilman vs Joseph Norton, action dismissed.

John Leathers vs J. W. Carr—Judgment for plaintiff.

Samuel F. Fuller in Eq. vs David Benjamin—Bill dismissed.

Albert Holton vs City of Bangor—plff. nonsuit.

James T. Soutter & al vs Albert Baker—Judgment for plff.

Samuel Larrabee vs Whitcomb Fairbanks—Plff. nonsuit.

Federick A. Butman compt. vs Hezekiah Winslow. Exceptions overruled.

Joseph Whipple inequity vs Samuel Springer & al. Bill dismissed.

James White, State Treasurer, vs Daniel Wilkins & al. together with the several additional declarations filed in the case was submitted on briefs by J. Godfrey, Hobbs and A. W. Paine for plff. J. Appleton for defts.

Same vs Same submitted on brief, A. W. Paine for Plf. J. Appleton for defts.

Samuel P. Dinsmore, was admitted as Attorney to practice in the Courts of the State.

The court rose on Saturday evening leaving a large number of actions, unargued which for want of time are necessarily continued for a whole year.

Littell's Living Age No 8 has been received and is for sale at the several Book stores in the city. We know of no way in which the expenditure of nine-pence can afford so much substantial and pleasant reading as in the purchase of a number of this work.

From Nauvoo—Reported Fight of the Prophet.

We have a little later news from Illinois. Gov. Ford is at Carthage, and has sent a letter to Jo Smith to treat with him, by sending some discreet persons with full powers. In the mean time he had ordered out the fourth brigade of Illinois Militia, and stationed a part at Warsaw and a part at Carthage. Arms in the arsenal at Alton were all ordered to Warsaw. The whole county was under arms. The Cincinnati Commercial of the 29th ult. gives reports on the authority of passengers from St. Louis that Jo Smith had fled from Nauvoo. The people, however, were determined to 'root out' the whole Mormon sect and capture Smith at all hazards. We consider the report of Smith flight doubtful though the Commercial presumes it to be true.

Six mountain boats arrived at St. Louis on the 21st ult., laden with furs. They were from Fort Platte, on the north fork of the Platte river. On their way down they were attacked by a party of Pawnees, who were repulsed. The boatmen escaped without the loss of life, but with the loss of life, but with the loss of some fire arms, ammunition and other property. The trade has been tolerably fair this season, but not so good as formerly.

Disaster at Sea.

The French brig Jeune Ludovic, from Port au Prince, in lat 20 30, long 76, fell in with a boat full of men, and took them on board. They belonged to the schooner William, Bridges, of Marblehead from Miragoiris, St Domingo, and stated that on the 11th of June, off Cape Nicolas Mole, at 6 P.M. she was struck by a white squall, and filled immediately. Capt Bridges and a seaman by the name of Grosvenor Williams, were drowned.

The Wreck of the Grampus.

Capt Taber of the whale ship Montpelier arrived at New Bedford, informs the Editor of the Bulletin, that on the 26th of June, the Bermudas Islands bearing W. N. W. distant 5 leagues, he fell in with a vessel bottom up, and nearly so, having the appearance of a 20 gun schooner, foremast gone, mainmast and bowsprit remaining apparently nearly new.

Her copper appeared good, part of the false keel and port shutters gone, and had apparently been in that situation five or six months. The wreck was doubtless that of the U. S. Schooner Grampus which was last heard of, we believe, off the Bermudas.

An Irishman by the name of James Norton was murdered in Batona on Wednesday by a negro named Peter York.

Illinois Awake.

The greatest activity prevails amongst the Whigs in every part of Illinois. The formation of Clay Clubs in every precinct has been a ready matter of course. The Whigs are haled in every quarter we have heard from, with the greatest enthusiasm.

"The Whigs of Illinois are, for once, wide awake, and determined to go into the approaching struggle with their whole hearts; with this feeling already so prevalent, and newising daily, what may we not expect? We may expect to do what the noble Whigs of Maryland did in 1836—make a complete revolution in the State, at once, by wise legislation, give her a high standing among her sister States. All this we can do, if we but go to work with sufficient spirit and energy." [Chicago Journal]

An Excellent Definition.

The editor of the Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer, in a very able exposition of the duty of Southern Whigs in the present contest, says—"Others may raise themselves under the name of Pro-Union, but we array ourselves under the name of Union."

The annexation question, which upon its own merits might have found a few sincere supporters, is destined to be totally lost, through the inactivity of its advocates. It has already lost much ground in Virginia; and in North Carolina and Georgia it is powerless; so say reliable accounts from those States. The disunion efforts and threats of South Carolina, both with regard to this question, as well as to that of the Tariff, are raising all hopes for carrying them, and turning against them many original friends, who are fast becoming disgusted with the folly—the ignorance, and intolerance of the slavery fanatics. This state of things has come apparently at last even to Mr Calhoun, who perceives that it is not "Democratic" for a very minute minority to rule the immense majority, and thrust the endorsements and perpetuation of slavery upon them against the stomach of their justice and humanity.

It is well understood that by the time of the coming election, Annexation, like Anti-Tariffism, will be confined to the State of South Carolina, that hospital of incurables. Mr Polk will take his ground in the slaves of Mr Van Buren, his victimized predecessor to the force of panic, and in the approaching contest nothing will be heard of the "Free Trade" or "Texas." The force of these two questions, and especially the last, which was relied upon by the sapient wise acres of the Baltimore Convention, to carry their obscure candidate into the Presidential Chair, having signally failed, and as he possesses no intrinsic personal cause of popularity, he will only prove another illustration in the line of unsuccess. "piece-cents," and secure the election of Mr Clay by a greater majority than has been claimed by his most sanguine friends. With regard to the disunion efforts of South Carolina, Mr Calhoun views them with alarm and regret; he has personally given in his adherence, and promised his support to Mr Polk, leaving Mr Tyler to amuse himself with the Presidential rattle until next March. He had hoped the Baltimore nomination, and its endorsement by the South Carolina Delegation, would have restored that State to the bosom of the confederacy, but nullification appears to be as ripe there now, as in the days gone by.—N. Y. Express.

The N. Y. Courier calls attention to the noble stand taken by the Whigs of the South in regard to Protection and the Union. The free trade absurdities, and the schemes of national robbery and treasonable abominations of the nullifiers, find no favor with the true-hearted Whigs of the Southern States. The Courier says it has watched with a good deal of care the developments of Southern opinion on all these subjects, and so far as it can judge from the tone of their press, the declarations of their public men and the proceedings of their popular meetings, it does not believe that there is a district or a town in the New England States where the people are more ardently, unbending and resolutely attached to Whig principles—to the principle of Protection in opposition to Free Trade especially—than are the Whigs of the South. The Courier selects as a single item from the immense amount of proof which might be adduced on this point, the resolutions of the Clay Club of Tuscaloosa, Ala., as a good indication of the spirit and temper of the Whigs of the South. We copy two of the most significant:—

Resolved, that we utterly repudiate the free trade dogmas of the Polk party; so long as about twenty-five millions per annum have to be raised for the support of the general government, we wish to see it raised by a tariff of duties on foreign imports; and if it incidentally protects American manufactures, the more the better, we care not how much it helps to make them consumers of our produce. The northern manufacturers purchase some four hundred thousand dollars of our cotton, and we would as soon have their gold as British gold.

Resolved, That the free trade doctrines of this new light Democracy lead directly and inevitably to direct taxation by the federal assessors and tax gatherers upon our farms, plantations and merchandize.

Indian war.

TUNE—"Tis my delight of a shiny night."

Did you ever hear of the rally,
The Loco made down east,
Where the coal-black nigger Billy,
Rode a stubborn long-eared beast?
The leaders' mandate had gone forth,
For the true to be on parade,
And Billy a true blue democrat,
Shoulder'd his wooden blade.

His sword was red with crimson stains,
(It was not done at Beale's)
And then its length! 'twas rather long,
But shorter than Billy's heels.
The lousy Jackass, Billy rode,
Was rather slow of gait,
In spite of spurs and sword and heels,
The donkey and Billy came late.

As Billy urged him through the town,
To arrive before Woodbury had done,
Not pleased with the feeling of Billy's heels,
The donkey to a dead stand came.
He did as donkeys sometimes do,
Down head and firm planted his feet.
Up went his hind legs, (you know how.)
And Billy was sprawled in the street.

Thousands of Locoos crowded around,
And murmured for poor Billy, all,
Learning a lesson by his fate,
That aspirants often fall.
But Marshal Walker (a whig, you know.)
On keeping good order intent,
Took Billy, his broadsword, jackass and all
And off to the watch-house they went.

There Billy grinning through the bars,
With his jackass by his side,
Thought of the cash the Locoos had paid,
To give their champion a ride.
He raised his voice (how his ivory shone!)
A warning to others he gave,
Just listen, my friends, for Bill Gardner speaks,
A moment's indulgence I crave.

If ever mounted on an Ass,
My hearers should ever be,
Remember that up, the donkey's heels go,
And the rider'll come down like me;
That when a hobby you do ride,
Whether Van or Polk or Cass,
You'll find before the ride is up,
That you are kicked from the back of an Ass.

A WHIGSONG.
Harry, the Honest and True.

TUNE—"Kissin the Bow."

Ye true hearted Whigs of the army
That conquered for Tippecanoe,
Come join with us now the high standard
Of HARRY, THE HONEST AND TRUE;
Of Harry, the honest and true,
Our Harry, the tried and true;
Who fought in the ranks as a soldier,
With us, for old Tippecanoe.

We have not, my friends, now to lead us,
Our former Commander, 'tis true,
For death has been here, and promoted,
Our chieftain, brave Tippecanoe;
Our chieftain, brave Tippecanoe,
Our gallant old Tippecanoe;
He's left us to join the high army
Of those who are faithful and true!

Yet in the same cause we're united,
We fight the same enemy too;
And have, for our leader, invited
The friend of old Tippecanoe;
The friend of old Tippecanoe,
Our honest, old Tippecanoe;
He left none behind him more worthy
Than HARRY, the gifted and true!

We know that He never will leave us,
To join with the enemy's crew;
We know he will never deceive us,
He ever was honest and true;
He ever was honest and true,
Our HARRY, the noble and true;
The trusty and cherished supporter,
And friend of old Tippecanoe!

Our gallant old Chief, when he left us,
Bequeathed us a "Captain," thought true;
But the Traitor has since joined the army
That fought against Tippecanoe;
That fought against Tippecanoe,
Our noble, old Tippecanoe;
But come boys! we'll yet "head the Captain."
With HARRY, the honest and true!

The victory gained once so nobly,
We lost, and by treachery too;
But shall ever the soldiers despair, boys,
Who've fought with old Tippecanoe;
Who've fought with old Tippecanoe,
The gallant old Tippecanoe;
Prick your flints again—look to your priming—
And FIRE for "HARRY, THE TRUE!"

More Nullification.

The Hon. R. B. Rhett, of South Carolina, has addressed a letter to his constituents, which shows that he is in favor of a Southern Convention to devise means for the annexation of Texas, but thinks such a Convention unattainable during the canvass for the Presidency, the question that absorbed all others. In relation to the tariff, he differs, it seems from Mr Calhoun, and is for the State preparing by legislation, to put herself once more on her sovereignty, [as it is] by calling a State Convention to meet in April next, to apply that most wrongful of all things 'nullification, the rightful remedy,' should the new President and the Cabinet not be of the right sort, and supercede the necessity for State action.

NEW PRINCIPLES OF PURGATION.
CORNARO'S
Purifying and Preserving PILLS.

THE American public has for a long time been the victim of a false and dangerous system of medicine founded on the practice of LONG CON-TINUED AND UNRELIEVED PURGATION.
The evils of this old system are of the most widespread and alarming character. They have reached through every vein and artery of our nation.
In every city, and village, and hamlet—in every State and Territory of our vast Republic, will be found those who have suffered, or who are still suffering from the injurious effects of this old system, of whose practical utility the disease, decay, and utter prostration of those who test it furnish the most condemning proofs!

COMMON DRASTIC PURGATION Scours out the system by the most improper and violent means, and then leaves it, weak, low, feeble debilitated, to regain its strength as best it may.
Sometimes the consequences of this old Purgative practice are worse than mere Debility. Inflammation of the Bowels, Slow Fever, Bloody Piles, and other horrible disorders are produced, simply from the want of some enlivening and preserving power in the medicine employed. Sometimes the digestive organs are deeply and permanently injured by this coarse and unphilosophical practice; leaving the patient AN INVALID FOR LIFE.
The alarming evils and absurdities of the old system of Purgation, have led to the introduction of a new Life-giving Medicine, called CORNARO'S PURI-FYING AND PRESERVING PILLS, which are established on this new and only true principle of Purgation, viz:
NO PURGATION WITHOUT IMMEDIATE RESTORATION.

The use of this admirable Purgative remedy strikes a death blow to that abominable system, which by continually evacuating the bowels without any conservative or saving power, so dreadfully and fearfully prostrates and injures the unhappy patient. These Purifying and Preserving Pills are believed to constitute the perfection of medicine,
being a UNIVERSAL VEGETABLE PURGA-TIVE, containing two great remedies combined viz: One remedy to PURIFY FROM CORRUPTI-TION, and another to PRESERVE FROM INJU-RY AND DECAY.
And for the purpose of attaining the highest degree of purity in the preparation of these Pills, Dr.
Bradlee has, at a vast expenditure of time and money, invented and patented at Washington, a chemical and philosophical apparatus for distilling and refining vegetable extracts, called
THE SEVEN-FOLD FURNACE,
A powerful and novel machine—having Seven Fires and Seven Alembics, with distilling, condensing, and evaporating fixtures of a new and ingenious contrivance, capable of obtaining more than seven times the ordinary purity of any vegetable extract heretofore used in compounding medicine. The Balmic and Preserving power of these Pills is also, by this invention, highly purified and refined, and so mingled with the operative medicine, that it repairs all the injuries created by Purgation as soon as they are caused, and strongly fortifies the system against future corruption and decay.

Let the public be no longer deceived by the advertisements of the "one remedy" doctors, who show their entire ignorance of the organic laws of the human system by supposing that a medicine which purges merely, without renovating or preserving, can be a perfect remedy. For it is a fixed and immutable law of our being that there should be, in no case, Purgation without immediate Restoration; and hence it follows, and is proved to demonstration, that all Purgatives which DO NOT possess a saving and preserving power, are injurious and injurious only—
and possess NOT ONE REDEMPTORY QUALITY.
The whole theory of common drastic Purgation is based upon unnatural and absurd laws, and they who follow it fall victims to their own folly, and too late repent their temerity.

BEWARE OF UNRELIEVED PURGA-TION! Purge and Preserve, or do not attempt to Purge at all.
The celebrated PURIFYING AND PRE-SERVING PILLS purify the body from corruption and preserve it from injury and decay by a single operation. They are a Universal Vegetable Pur-gative, of sovereign use in all diseases of the human system in which purgation is required, particularly in Jaundice, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Eruptions of the Skin, Scrofula, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Disorders, Liver Complaint, Fevers, Nervous Disorders, Inward
Weakness, Cholera, Dysentery, Worms, Gout, Rheu-

Indian Vegetable Pills,
OR INDIAN PURGATIVE.
THOUGH many medicines have been the public for a much longer period Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, yet none sta-now in higher repute, or has more rapidly attain-a firm hold upon popular estimation. The stands that have used them throughout the and breadth of the Republic, all bear cheerful testimony to their thorough efficacy and mild operation, when employed in the most distressing disorders which "flesh is heir to." To those, however who have not used them, who are suffering in incipient or advanced stages of disease, and are looking round for weapons wherewith to bat the Destroyer—intelligent inquirers, who be satisfied with the theory and principle of a co-
of medical treatment, before they commence, comes necessary to make a few preliminary marks on this invaluable medicine.

The theory of disease on which WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are founded this, viz: That there is only one primary cause all the disorders which afflict the human fa-and that is corrupt humors—or, in other words, purity of Blood. This principle is now so generally admitted, that it may in fact be paid to be sustained by a universality of opinion—the few dissenters constituting but a very feeble minority. It is less, therefore, to discuss the soundness of this theory in this place and connection.

The ONE DISEASE PRINCIPLE being admitted, the mode of attack proposed by all practitioners becomes the same, viz: Purgation. But of the so called specifics now before the public duce only one form of purgation; they are Sudorific, Cathartic, Diuretic or Expectorant.
Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills combine all properties, and are therefore calculated to the elements of disease at all points, and by monious and combined operation, to expel in-cally from the system. Their effect is almost ical, and is no less astonishing for its mildness its efficacy. Both sexes and all ages may use them, according to the direction without fear while they are certain to cure ALL DISEASE that are remediable, they never inflict an injury on the system.

The ORIGIN of this invaluable medicine, it to unlimited confidence and respect. The we approach to nature in our researches after both in science and art, the more complete our success in both. Look at the uniform con-condition of the Indian Tribes of this coun-whether exposed to the frosts and storms of North, or to the rain, heat, and pestilential of Southern climate. Houseless, unprotected posed to every atmospheric change, every of the seasons, dwelling at times in moras-by the margins of unhealthy pools and swamps, they yet enjoy an almost total immunity from ease, while the white man, who enjoys the comforts of civilization, with its attendant as much inferior to the savage in physical he is superior to him in intellectual acquire-How does this happen? Simply because, the light of science, he relies upon that stict which impels him to select from the of the field and forest those remedies which and Nature's God has bountifully provided and suffering, and the mitigation and salvage of suffering them broadcast on every valley. Let those who impudently arraign justice of Divine Providence, and point with to the multitude of invalids who lie grovbeds of sickness, turn from the false glow-and study the secrets of nature, and they that mercy which has so bountifully profor every wound—a remedy for all who seek These Pills, as we before remarked, o-purgative—by thoroughly cleansing the tem from all impurities, and making the the homely but expressive phrase, "a new whether the disease is INCIPENT CATHAR-TION, which insidiously attacks the L ducing that dry, hacking cough, so pain-frequently ear; or Cutaneous, showing itself skin in eruptions or blotches; whether the or the Bowels be affected—Wright's In-table Pills are equally efficacious in all danger. Their expectorant, cathartic, and diuretic qualities enable them to take each form of disease.

The perfect safety of the medicine is important quality, and one which has more than any thing else to its exten-sionality.

In a word, this medicine commends it-ly to the patronage of the public, and it fair to become, before long, ALMOST SAL.
